REVOKE LICENSES AT DISCRETION

Mayor Yeiser Will Not Await
Police Court Conviction

Says That City Has Won Complete
Victory So Far in Hugh Boyle Case.

WILL KEEP THE LID ON TIGHT.

Mayor Yeiser, following the decision today of Judge Reed in the Hugh Boyle case, stated that he will not depend entirely on evidence and conviction in the police court hereafter, but, having the sanction of the circuit judge, will revoke saloon licenses for Sunday violation on substantive evidence collected by himself. He says the city has won a complete victory over Mr. Boyle, now, and he will have warrants issued for Boyle's arrest for violating the state law, if the latter persists in selling liquor.

The mayor says:
"In view of the fact that some of the newspapers of the city have obtained a mistaken report as to the true status of the proceedings against Hugh Boyle and as much harm may be done by a misunderstanding of this matter, I desire to give the public the exact facts as the case now stands.

"I want especially to call the attention of the saloonkeepers to the true condition that confronts them, and to say to them frankly that I intend to use every legal method to stop the selling of liquor in Paducah on Sunday, and further to assure them, that so far the courts have upheld me in every respect, and that all that has been gained by the attorneys for Mr. Boyle is to call attention to a defect in the law by which the fine imposed for violation of the Sunday law, under said ordinance, have been found to be too low, and illegal on that account. Mr. Boyle's attorneys have succeeded in only doing one thing—and that is to have the ordinance so amended that the saloonkeepers hereafter will be fined exactly double what they have heretofore been fined.

"I want to call the public's attention to the fact that Judge Reed held that the ordinance, under which I have revoked the license of saloonkeepers for violating the Sunday law, was a valid ordinance and that Judge Barker of the court of appeals held that the ordinance was valid. The question as to whether I had acted right or wrong in revoking Mr. Boyle's license was not up for Judge Barker's decision, and his remarks on that point were entirely outside of the case. All that he said was not told by the attorneys for Mr. Boyle. Judge Barker cautioned Mr. Corbett in his statement that his opinion about the effect of the appeal might be changed when the case came up before the full court of appeals, and said that it was an offhand opinion purely.

Will Revoke License.
"But Judge Barker did deny Mr. Corbett's request to grant an injunction against me and dismiss the case and sustained Judge Reed, and Judge Barker did say that there was no doubt whatever, that I had the power to revoke any saloon man's license under section 10 of the ordinance. I have the decision of two judges on that point—Judge Reed and Judge Barker, and before both of these judges Mr. Corbett has lost his main contention, which was that the ordinance was invalid, and that I had no constitutional right to revoke a saloon man's license. The courts have held that I had this right, and that I can hear evidence independent of the police court and take action regardless of what is done in the police court. But I want to assure the general public that I intend to enforce the rights that the courts hold that I have, and intend to vigorously prosecute all violators of the Sunday law by hearing evidence myself and revoking every license where the guilt of the holder is proven. I shall not hereafter await the procedure in the police court, but will act independent and because I have been assured by my counsel and also by the opinion of both Judge Reed and Judge Barker that this ordinance is undoubtedly valid in that respect.

"I have had an ordinance prepared increasing the fine so as to meet Judge Reed's objections to section 13, and shall call the council together at once, and ask the boards to remedy the defect in the law, and I am sure they will do so and hereafter, thanks to Mr. Boyle's attorneys, saloonkeepers will be fined exactly double the amount that has previously been imposed on them whenever they violated the Sunday closing law, and in every such case I shall follow the procedure pointed out by Judge Reed and Judge Barker in their opinions about the validity of the ordinance and will certainly revoke every license where the man is shown to

THREE BURGLARS ROB MODEL STORE

Fit Themselves With Complete
Outfit of Clothing

Take Shoes for "Lookout" to Try On —Shirts and Neckties by the Wholesale.

WOULD HAVE ALL THEY WANT.

Three burglars, apparently possessed of time and patience, and particular about their wearing apparel, helped themselves to an outfit apiece with an extra pair of shoes each and change of shirts, at the Model store, 112 South Second street, last night. Discovery of the burglary was made this morning by Milas Bryant, clerk at the store, which is owned by L. E. Levy.

Entry was gained by prizing open a rear window. Patrolmen Cross and Johnson and Detective Will Baker are working on the case.

Evidently the men had looked in the front window first and picked out their suits, for three suits and three pairs of trousers were missing from one show window which showed no evidence of disorder. The burglars next got into the shoe department. They pulled down brogans, but these did not suit. Then they got down the boys' shoes, and next the ladies' Patent leather was their choice, and after ransacking the establishment they found what they wanted, and the two working inside had taken the trouble to try on their shoes, one of them leaving his old shoes and hat. There are evidences that they took shoes out for the "lookout" to try on.

Late arrivals of derbys did not please the burglars, and after scattering these hats around, each selected a straw hat. They took perhaps a dozen shirts, and stuffed their pockets with a consignment of neckties, which had just been displayed. Mr. Levy estimates his loss at $100, but fortunately is secured by a burglary insurance policy only recently issued.

BANK CLEARINGS ARE ON THE INCREASE

Business Outlook is Excellent and Indicate Continued Prosperity

Clearings this week.....$874,451
Same week last year.....$67,291

Increase.....$ 7,160

The clearings this week show a slight increase over the same week last year, and the volume indicates quite a good deal of activity for the season. Business conditions, in all lines, indicate a continuation of the great prosperity and activity of the past decade. Reports issued this week from officials of the great railroad systems that tap the corn and wheat belts of the west and northwest note that while the crops won't be as large as they have been in one or two bumper years, still a great crop will be harvested and good business for another year is assured.

Business with the local transportation companies indicate a big rush in both freight and passenger traffic. Retail merchants are satisfied with the clearance sales now on, and wholesalers report generally satisfactory business.

The Lack Malleable Iron company will probably begin operation of its new factory next week, with a force of 50 men. The company will manufacture the iron used by the Lack Singletree company.

Work on the extension of the N. C. and St. L. line into Mechanicsburg was begun Tuesday and will be completed about September 1. Operation of the glass factory has been delayed on account of delay in receiving machinery, but as soon as this line is constructed the machinery will be delivered and operation will begin shortly thereafter.

Work on the Werten addition extension of the street car line is progressing rapidly and will soon be ready to be thrown open for traffic.

FINE MARKET TODAY FOR CITY PEOPLE

All Sorts of Vegetables On Display at Market This Morning

This morning's market was one of the biggest in years, and every bench was loaded with vegetables for the Paducah trade. Wagons were backed to the curbing on both sides of South Second street below the market house to the city scales lot on both sides of the street. Many people were at the market today, and both this morning and afternoon the market was crowded. Tomatoes are plentiful and almost every marketer had these. Peaches are plentiful and the grade was excellent, and many housekeepers bought bushels for canning purposes. The price ranges from 50c to 75c a half bushel. Corn, which has been scarce this week was for sale in plentiful quantities, and the grade is much better. A large part of the corn offered last week was worn eaten, and only about half the ear could be used. Next week the market will be overrun with this produce. The dealer that had beans this morning was strictly in it, for their quantity was limited owing to the recent dry weather killing the blooms several weeks ago. Late beans are not in, and it will be some time before they are plentiful. Melons sold from 5 cents to 40 cents. This year's crop is good in some sections of the county, but unless shipments are large, the supply is going to be short and the price correspondingly high, much to the despair of the admirers of the luscious fruit.

The funeral probably will be at St. Francis de Sales church. Details have not been received by the family, but the following dispatch to the Memphis papers tells of the accident: "Kelly was a member of a local crew going west. He was standing on the pilot of the engine, making a run down grade to catch a runaway coal car. The engine bumped into the car with a great deal of force and Kelly was caught between the drawhead, with the result that his neck was broken. He was a member of the B. & R. T. ## NO WRIT OF PROHIBITION

Boyle Will Have to Abide by Prosecution on the State

JUDGE W. M. REED'S REBUKE

Comments on Fact That Fake
Tips as to His Actions
Were Given Out

THE TEXT OF HIS OPINION

In an opinion, which rebukes attorneys for tipping off the court's probable action before judgment is rendered, Judge Reed, of the circuit court today, by agreement of counsel, sustained the writ of prohibition to restrain Police Judge Cross from trying Hugh Boyle, on the charge of violating a city ordinance by selling liquor without a license, but refused to grant such a writ, as to a warrant sworn out under the Kentucky statutes covering the same ground.

The cases against Boyle were dismissed in the police court, and Chief of Police Collins was directed to swear out another warrant for Boyle in the name of the commonwealth of Kentucky instead of the city of Paducah. City Solicitor Campbell and Attorney Campbell Flournoy agreed that the city ordinance is invalid, because the amount of the penalty differs from that prescribed in the statute, covering the same offense, and a new ordinance probably will be the result.

This is a victory for the prosecution. The statute covers exactly the same grounds as the city ordinance, and the police judge has jurisdiction to try the cases.

Judge Reed's rebuke to counsel was based on the fact that two newspapers have published false accounts of what the court would do. When the injunction was before Judge Reed, the papers said he would sustain the injunction. He dismissed it. They stated later that the judge of the court of appeals had decided that the mayor has no right to revoke a license pending appeal of a case from the police court. The judge did no such thing, and no corrections have been made. This morning a newspaper said that Judge Reed "will this morning grant an order prohibiting Judge David Cross of the police court from issuing any warrants against Hugh Boyle, charging him "under the ordinance" with selling liquor without a license. The judge supplemented his remarks, to extent that he may make a general prohibitory order, but first wanted to look up some authorities in the litigation.

"If the judge makes the order 'general' it will prevent the police judge from issuing or trying warrants under the ordinance or statutes either."

Judge Reed did no such thing; he refused the writ so far as it affected the statutory remedy, and upheld it as to the ordinance, because the ordinance is palpably invalid.

Following is the opinion of Judge Reed in full:

"I regret that I have been unable so far to intimate an opinion in chambers to the attorneys touching the matter involved in this controversy without the newspapers publishing in advance what my decision would be before it was rendered. This is unfair and unjust to the court, and attorneys in my opinion should await the final decision of the court, and not rush in advance to the newspapers to have it heralded to the public as to what the decision will be. When the injunction proceedings, growing out of this same controversy, was before some days ago, it was without my knowledge or authority published in the newspapers that my decision would be a certain way, when in fact the decision was just the other way when rendered. In view of these facts, I have concluded to briefly give the reasons for my conclusions and decisions in this controversy.

"I am asked to issue a writ of prohibition against D. A. Cross, judge

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

DEEP WATERWAYS

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED IN MEMPHIS MEETING

Many Inquiries for Accommodations Are Made By Delegates to Convention.

Memphis, Aug. 10.—Inquiries regarding accommodations for the delegates booked to attend the national convention of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association at Memphis, Oct. 4 and 5, continue to arrive, and Secretary Warren, of the local executive committee, is kept busy answering them.

It is expected the convention will be one of the best attended in the history of the city of Memphis; certainly, the most important. The two features of the convention will be: First, the magnificent flotilla of boats and will leave St. Louis on Oct. 2 and arrive in Memphis Oct. 4, and second, the big parade down Main street.

The decorations will be another feature of the convention. Main street will be tastefully decorated with bunting and stars and stripes, and the same embellishments will be placed on the stand and in the building where the convention will be held. The very best music will be secured for the parade and convention.

Representatives of the Business Men's League of St. Louis have just returned from Alton, Ill., where they went to meet the mayor of that city. While there they made arrangements to secure the Alton, the boat which will convey the governors from St. Louis to Memphis. The Alton is a new boat, and one of the prettiest and fastest on the river. It draws only three feet of water with a thousand people on board, and has thirty-one nicely furnished staterooms. The plan is to take nobody on board the Alton but the governors and the following representatives of the Business Men's League: Ex-Gov. David R. Francis, Mayor Reila Wells, ex-Mayor C. P. Walbridge, William K. Kavanaugh, Oscar L. Whitelaw, Harry B. Hawes, Murray Carleton, Elias Michael, Edward Devoy, Walker Hill and W. K. Saunders.

PEACE MORE FATAL THAN WAR

Killed on Railroads in Three Months Exceed Number at Gettysburg.

Washington, Aug. 10.—During the first three months of the present calendar year more people were killed on the railroads of the United States than during the war with Spain and the casualties were greater than during the three days' fight at Gettysburg during the civil war.

During the months of January, February and March the total number of casualties to passengers and employees was 20,563, a decrease of 381 as compared with the preceding three months. Passengers and employees to the number of 421 were killed in train accidents and 4,929 were injured, being 53 less killed and 20 less injured than during the preceding three months. There were 2,078 collisions and 1,913 derailments, passenger trains being in 323 collisions and 229 derailments. Property losses and damages suffered by the railroads on account of these accidents amounted to $3,536,110.

There was a notable decrease of 25 per cent in deaths due to coupling accidents, but there was shown no other important decrease in deaths due to other causes. The accidents covered in the report included two collisions and two derailments, in which 82 persons were killed.

Wonderful Modern Boat Breaks All Records For River Travel at Trial

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 10.—Thirty-five miles an hour in a motor boat was the remarkable speed attained today by a boat radically different from the ordinary craft of its kind.

The test was made on the Illinois river over a measured course and under the supervision of officers of the Illinois Valley Yacht club. The boat which turned the trick is a forty-foot open launch with a pair of four cylinder four horse-power engines.

The boat is known as the Hydrocurve, and is the invention of C. A. Mankoff, of Peoria, Ill. The hull and not the engine power, according to the inventor, is responsible for the high speed possible to attain.

Built on New Lines. The hull is built entirely on new lines, though above the water it has the same general appearance of the ordinary launch. The form of the submerged portion is wider and of less draft at its prow and narrows gradually to an apex at the stern, where it is of greatest draft. The bottom is slightly concave, both lengthwise and crosswise. The sides are slightly convex, both lengthwise and vertically. By this means every particle of water is set in motion gradually and dandled with the least possible application of power.

Instead of plowing through the water and displacing it to each side of the boat, the water is displaced from the surface downward, moving the water in one direction only. The Hydrocurve running at the same speed as an ordinary boat not only moves the water at about one-third of the speed, but handles it according to its tendency by natural flow.

Instead of plowing into the water at high speed, the boat has a tendency to rise from the water and skim over the surface. The owner of the boat

People's Cure for Stomach Ills

It would be folly to say that a person should always be his own doctor. There are times when one cannot be too quick in consulting a competent and reliable physician, but the fact does remain that there are many ailments that can be cured at home at very little expense. Such remedies can be bought at any first-class drug store for a small sum.

Among the diseases that can be effectively treated at home are such as pertussis to the stomach, liver and bowels, like constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, flatulency, sour stomach, bloated stomach, sick headache, heartburn, etc. For these troubles there is no better remedy than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound, and among its staunchest friends are the doctors themselves. In such troubles they know they have nothing better to offer than the ingredients contained in this remedy, and hence the liberal ones advise their patients to take it.

It often happens that at the commencement of an attack some people hesitate to take such a simple remedy, and run to a doctor, but after trying various doctors they finally take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and have their condition rewarded by a cure. A good case in point is that of Mr. Herrin, of Lawrenceville, Ill., who suffered from what the doctors called catarrh of the stomach. He was given up to be cured by three leading physicians. He had no appetite, could not digest what little he did eat, had severe pains in the stomach, and finally, moments when he himself thought he would die. Ultimately he was advised to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and did so, and now he is entirely cured and has gained 35 pounds. He naturally advises all sufferers from weak stomach to use it. It can be had in 50 cent and $1 bottles, and results guaranteed or money is refunded.

MULES EAT BONNETS OFF EACH OTHER'S HEADS.

Many have been the unrighteous acts laid to the Missouri mule, but, according to authorities on this subject, never until yesterday has it been said that a Missouri mule is an epicure. But the man who makes this statement now is a Seventh street baker, and, being such, he ought to know. All the more so, because he says it about his own two "Mauds," which are hitched every day to a wagon to deliver bread to the baker's customers.

It was while playing as an amateur detective that the baker made his wonderful discovery in regard to the Missouri mule.

At this time of the year, when the city pavements are sizzling with the heat, the minds of all turn to thoughts of shade. And some one more humane than others, not only thought of shade for himself, but also planned a way to keep his horse cool. And it was simply by cutting holes in the rim of a large "hayseed" hat. This method of keeping the horse from drooping was invented several years ago, and is in general use at this time.

Every day, for over a week, when he sent his mules out in the morning, the baker would place their bonnets nicely on their heads, tying them with blue or pink ribbon, and every night the mules would return to their stalls minus the pretty headgear. The bonnets that the baker used were of straw; and to the mules, when the sun was shining brightly on the straw there came the odor, more or less, of new mown hay. After a week of detective work the baker found where his hats were disappearing to. The mules were eating them off each other's heads. It is needless to say that the mules now roam the streets without headgear of any sort.—Globe Democrat.

President Garfield's Funeral Bill. Death has disclosed that the government has for twenty-six years refused to pay the expenses incident to the funeral of President Garfield.

William R. Speare, a veteran undertaker of Washington, died some time ago, and it has been disclosed that the most valuable asset of his estate is a claim against the government for services incident to the funeral of Garfield.

Soon after the Garfield funeral congress appropriated money to defray all expenses, and the secretary of the treasury appointed a commission to investigate all the bills. All those presenting claims were required to file receipts bills. Speare, who had his own ideas about business, refused to hand to the government a receipt in full for his services in advance of receiving the money. As payment could only be made upon such receipt, the hands of the government were tied, and for twenty-six years Speare has been trying to get a settlement. Appeals have been made to congress by Speare to secure the payment of his account. Now that the claim has passed into other hands, it is probable that this bill will be paid, by the Speare heirs agreeing to comply with the government's requirements.—San Francisco Chronicle.

HAIL, FOLLY!

On a day I met with Folly,
Knowing not a flirt was she;
She was piquant, she was jolly,
And she thrust out melancholy
With a smile of witchery.
I, supine, could not disarm her,
Though I guessed in some degree
There was mischief in my charmer.
So it came about, you see,
Folly made a fool of me!

Polly tired of her adorer
When her slave I came to be,
Scoffing at the love I bore her,
Vexed because I boldly wore her
Too familiar livery.
Petulant, she scolded and left me
Shorn of all my panoply.
So it was when she beret me
Of her smile, she set me free—
Folly made a man of me.
—Frank Roe Batchelder, in Smart Set.

CAVE IN INDIANA MAY RIVAL FAMOUS MAMMOTH

New Albany, Ind., Aug. 10.—A search for a hog that had fallen into a sink-hole resulted in the discovery on the farm of Daniel Swearns near Milltown, on the Southern railroad, 35 miles west of New Albany, of a cave that promises to excel in grandeur and extent the famous Wyandotte, and it is possible that it may lead to an unexplored arm of that celebrated cavern, the longest route of which is eleven miles long. No importance has been attached to a bottomless sinkhole in the barnyard of the Swearns family until a few days ago when a hog fell into the hole and disappeared. Mr. Swearns got a rope and lowered himself to the bottom of the pit, when to his amazement he found himself in a subterranean cavern of surpassing beauty.

For more than a mile the astonished farmer was led by curiosity from room to room, until he finally became uneasy for fear that he might get lost, and retraced his steps to the entrance without finding either the lost hog or the end of the cave. Mr. Swearns is organizing an exploring party with a view of thoroughly exploring the new cavern.

SOME STRANGE PETS KEPT BY ROYAL WOMEN

There seems to be a growing tendency among the royal ladies of the courts of Europe to harbor strange and unconventional pets—a habit which has hitherto been almost exclusively confined to women more or less intimately connected with the stage.

The Kaiser, it seems, does not approve of the fashion, for he has more than once vigorously protested against his extravagant daughter-in-law, Princess Eitel-Friedrich's penchant for pet monkeys. At Potsdam she has a model monkey house, containing no fewer than fourteen of these animals. One of them escaped a few weeks ago and wrought great havoc in the imperial gardens before it was captured by the retired non-commissioned officer who is responsible for the welfare of the Princess's pets.

The beautiful Countess of Montignosa, whose unhappy marriage to the King of Saxony ended in her divorce, is said to seek for consolation at having been deprived of her children in the extraordinary interest she takes in a number of American iguanas, which she feeds herself. The Countess's vegetable bill for her pets is said to amount to 100 marks a week.

Another royal woman who has a weakness for lizards is the Duchess Vera of Wurtemberg, but it is to be chameleons that she is more particularly attached. While still a Russian Grand Duchess she indulged her fancy for these curious pets, and with them she created a mild sensation at Stuttgart when, in 1877, she was married to the late Duke Eugene. Duchess Vera is never tired of watching her chameleons shooting out their tongues to a length of six or seven inches.

Princess Hildegarde of Bavaria, a daughter of Prince Rupprecht, received last month, as a birthday present from the hereditary Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, a Persian lynx, or caracal, which he had brought back with him from German East Africa. It is a handsome bright brown creature with a long tail, and although naturally fierce in disposition, it has learned to take meat directly from the hands of its royal mistress.

The Czar's one and only great-aunt, the Grand Duchess Alexandra Josefovna of Russia bought two pairs of camels some years ago, while on a visit to the Caucasus, and at her lovely place outside St. Petersburg she devotes much of her time each summer to her somewhat uncommon pets. She has now no fewer than 17 of the animals, and several zoological gardens in various Russian towns have been presented with animals bred upon the Grand Duchess's estate.

It is reserved to the Baroness von Heldburg, the morganatic and third wife of Duke George II of Saxe-Meiningen, to be a royal lover of snakes. She has several of them, and they are as tame as dogs, and then she horrifies her husband's friends by appearing at the table with one of the reptiles coiled around her neck. The Baroness, who was born plain Helena Franz, has (although she is his third wife) lived happily with her husband for no fewer than thirty-four years.

years, has written a charming autobiography, McClure's Magazine is the fortunate publisher and will present from time to time portions of it dealing with separate events. The first part, "Memories of My Childhood," appears in the June McClure's, and we quote from this Terry's account of her first appearance on April 28, 1856, as "Mamillus" in the Keans' London production of "A Winter's Tale":

There is something, I suppose, in a woman's nature which always makes her remember how she was dressed at any especially eventful moment of her life, and I can see myself, as though it were yesterday, in the little red and silver dress I wore as Mamillus. Mrs. Grieve, the dresser—"Peter Grieve-us," as we children called her—had pulled me into my very pink tights (they were very tight according to the pictures of me) and my mother had arranged my hair, in sausage curls on each side of my head, in even more perfect order and regularity than usual. Besides my clothes, I had a beautiful "property" to be proud of! This was a going-at, which had been made in the theater by Mr. Bradshaw, and was an exact copy of a child's toy as depicted on a Greek vase. It was my duty to drag this little cart about the stage, and on the first night, when Mrs. Keans as Leontes told me to "go play," I obeyed his instructions with such vigor that I tripped over the handle and came down on my back! A titter ran through the house, and the completion of 50 triumphant years was ruined forever. Bitter and copious were the tears I shed, but the little incident, so mortifying to me, did not spoil my first appearance altogether. The Times of May 1, 1856, was kind enough to call me "vivacious and precocious," and my part-words were "pleased" (although they would not show it too much) and Mrs. Keans gave me a pat on the back. Father and Kate were both in the cast, too, I ought to have said, and the Queen, Prince Albert, and the Princess Royal were all in a box on the first night.

In his new book, "Three Acres and a Living," Bolton Hall quotes a Hebrew proverb: "If a man make but a mouse-trap better than his fellows, though he makes his tent in the wilderness, the world will beat a path to his door."

Profits Vanished=Prices Crashing the Coming Week in August

Perhaps you do, but most likely you do not, understand the full meaning of this announcement. Here is what we mean: We will place matchless and unequalled bargain opportunities before you the coming week, because our profit selling time for this season is up and because this sale is planned as part of Mr. and Mrs. Harbour's preparation to get ready by the close of the coming week to leave for New York City on their autumn buying trip. The goods in this sale are the kind you need now, but they have lingered in our possession long enough. Last week they were shorn of profit. The coming week they go crashing below the cost of production, not to mention the cost of selling. It will certainly be good judgment to turn your thoughts in our direction and attend this sale the coming week.

It is to be hoped that Chicago and Pittsburgh will not return Democratic congressmen in their anxiety to abolish the smoke nuisance.

The News-Democrat had on its fighting clothes yesterday. It reached away around to slap James P. Smith, candidate for mayor, on the wrist, and struck the local optimists a solar plexus blow. It's always well to know whom one has to fight, and the News-Democrat's making common cause against the two, no doubt fixes the status of its candidate for mayor and the reason the News-Democrat is for him.

The police commissioners look mighty confident whenever anyone speaks of their removal, should Tom Harrison be elected mayor.

FAKING THE NEWS.

Whether the editorial policy of the News-Democrat is based on the police reporter's flights of fancy or whether that astute youth is given access to the editorial files and shapes the news to the policy of the paper, one is unable to judge from perusal of its columns, but the fact is patent that news stories of Thursday were written over again for Friday's paper in an entirely different vein from that of their first appearance, and they harmonized almost too well, both in spirit and style, with the editorial leader. And we would commend to the youth whose fancy painted the front page horrors a simple rule of newspaperdom—in faking the details of a news story, always give some consideration to apparent consistency and plausibility. For instance, when a heavily armed desperado has been brought in by two unarmed men, obeying their simplest commands, and then turns on his captors after he is surrounded by officers only to be overpowered by a gentleman from Mississippi, who, oddly enough, had once before a thousand miles from here, it would be no trouble to give the fictitious gentleman from Mississippi some sort of a name. The addition of some simple cognomen could not detract from the truth of a story that had no truth in it to begin with.

Another "penny dreadful" of the same issue lacked only the one crowning detail, that Police Judge Cross was so grieved and shocked over the atrocity of the crime that he assessed against the prisoner a fine of $5, the penalty commonly applied to an habitual drunkard. That this fine was assessed before 10 o'clock in the morning and the story appeared on the street somewhere about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, does not add strength to the assumption that the police reporter overlooked this item. We should rather infer that he took due cognizance of the rule, that in the judicious selection of material for a story, nice discrimination requires as careful attention to what to leave out as to what to put in.

When a man goes out hunting for trouble, everybody seems glad to hand it to him.

Paducah's policemen are surely in bad. Patrolman Hill is charged with a grievous offense by the bartender of a saloon, the proprietor of which Hill arrested for alleged Sunday selling, and he and Patrolman Rogers are also accused by the madam of a bawdy house, who has been arrested frequently. Patrolman Rogers is one of the policemen, who arrested a saloonkeeper for Sunday selling, and was attacked by the News-Democrat for his officiousness. "He constituted himself a smelling committee" on that occasion, to use the words of the News-Democrat. "Pernicious activity," seems to be one of the chief offenses of these policemen.

If the suckers will contribute to the strike fund all they save by reason of the Chicago "tickers" being out of commission, the telegraphers will be sure to win.

"Sublime Porte" sounds like something to drink and acts like it.

When a prisoner is tried in the police court immediately following the commission of an offense, it is generally possible to get the witnesses before the court; but when the case is appealed to the circuit court, several months elapse, witnesses forget, and some times mysteriously disappear, and the chances of conviction are lessened. Now, when a prisoner appears in police court, and refuses to plead and introduce witnesses in his defense, and the court accepts this as confession, the court has discretion, either to assess a fine less than $20 and thus prevent an appeal from a judgment the prisoner technically confesses, or to assess a fine so that the prisoner may appeal, and secure the advantage of this lapse of time before trial in the circuit court.

Mayor Yeiser and Chief of Police Collins, with City Solicitor Campbell, are receiving mighty little support from their party organs in their fight for the enforcement of the Sunday laws. Somebody is evidently attempting to embarrass Circuit Judge Reed and belound the issues. Before Judge Reed dissolved the injunction against the mayor in the Hugh Boyle case, these papers printed stories apparently emanating from the side of the defense, that Judge Reed had determined to sustain the injunction. Then when Judge Barker of the court of appeals sustained Judge Reed, the same papers printed the false information that Judge Barker had decided the mayor could not revoke Boyle's license. Today we see advance information of Judge Reed's intention in regard to the writ of prohibition, also suspiciously favorable to the defense. It must be pleasant for Judge Reed to have his mind read and his judgments given publicity in advance.

SLIGHTLY HUMOROUS.

A cross disposition is no evidence of bearing the Divine cross.

As conscience becomes atrophied the critical faculties often become active.

"What would you do if you were in my place?" asked the government clerk of a friend.

"Why, I'd simply draw my salary just as you do!" was the reply.—Yonkers Statesman.

"You bore me with your dangers of alcohol. Look at me; I am seventy-six and always take two absinthes every day."

"Ah, my friend, probably if you hadn't done that you would be a centenarian now."—Bon Vivant.

STRIKE SPREADS TO POSTAL CO.

Disorder Breaks Out in Chicago Today

Trend of Movement Among Telegraph Operators Southward and Westward at First.

SOME TROUBLE IN DETROIT.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Union leaders have lost control of the Commercial Telegraphers' strike, being carried along in avalanche of resentment felt toward the Postal and Western Union companies. Until today the sweep of the strike has been toward the south and west.

Disorder has started in Chicago. A strike breaker named Leighton, was assaulted by three men while leaving the Postal and badly beaten. The mayor has ordered the union to abandon picket lines about the buildings of both companies. This has caused much feeling among operators.

Railroad operators announce they will quit if compelled to handle commercial business. Officials of the telegraph companies declare it is a fight to a finish.

In Detroit, Detroit, Aug. 10.—Twenty-five operators struck here last night, following the dismissal of one of their number for refusing to work the Chicago wire. Operator was reinstated and the men returned after voting not to work with non-unionists.

Government Aid.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Secretary Russell, of the Commercial Telegraphers, in conference with attorneys of the union preparing, it is said, to ask the federal government to seize the properties of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, providing the strike continues to spread. Under the terms of the federal statute, giving the government power to take over properties of telegraph companies as a matter of public expediency when companies are unable to operate them.

At New Orleans.

New Orleans, Aug. 10.—Western Union telegraph operators have struck, joining the Postal's force which went out last night.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, Aug. 10.—Dun's Review says:

Bank clearings in the first week of August at all leading cities in the United States, with the exception of two, are in excess of preceding years, the total of exchanges for the week at all leading cities outside of New York being $862,679,371, an increase of 11.4 per cent. over last year, and 21.5 per cent. over the corresponding week of 1905. There is a good gain of every city except New Orleans, where a small loss is recorded, and at the west continued activity is reflected in the exceptional totals there. The loss at New York City still carries the total of all cities below last year, but is almost wholly due to the small volume of Wall street transactions this year.

August and September are two months when one has to be very careful about every condition that makes for good, or bad health. The system is usually beginning to feel the strain of the hot summer months and the different organs need but very little to throw them into complete disorder and result in probably a fatal illness.

Good health is assured however if you heed nature's gentle warnings, and are in any measure discreet. The usual summer disorders—malaria, general work-out, and run-down, conditions, biliousness, stomach and bowel disorders of all kinds, chronic or acute headaches yield readily, and very quickly, to the Osteopathic treatment, and have no attending ill effects. Usually you are as ill from the customary medical prescriptions as from the illness, but, in Osteopathy you experience none of this. Let me tell you at any time of the great success I am having with the treatment in Paducah. I shall refer you to people you know well for the evidence, and who will tell you just what it has done for them.

NO WRIT OF PROHIBITION

of the Paducah police court, to prohibit and restrain said judge from issuing warrants or trying the plaintiff herein, Hugh Boyle, for selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors without a license, either in the name of the city of Paducah, for a violation of section thirteen of the ordinances of the city of Paducah, approved December 31, 1906, or in the name of the commonwealth for a violation of the provisions of the Kentucky statutes.

"Section 168 of the constitution provides in substance, that no municipal ordinance shall fix a penalty for the violation thereof at less than that imposed by the statutes of Kentucky for the same or a like offense, and that a conviction or acquittal under either the ordinance or the general law shall be a bar to the prosecution under the other.

"Section 1304 of the Kentucky statutes fixes the penalty for selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors without a license at not less than twenty (20) dollars nor more than one hundred (100) dollars, while section thirteen of the said ordinance fixes the penalty at not less than ten (10) dollars nor more than fifty (50) dollars, hence I conclude that said section thirteen of said ordinance is unconstitutional and void, and that Judge Cross has no right to try the defendant in a prosecution thereunder.

"But according to the decision of our court of appeals, which in latter years have somewhat enlarged the powers of the circuit court and court of appeals to grant writs of prohibition. Nevertheless, as I understand the law, the power can only be exercised when an inferior court is acting beyond or outside of its jurisdiction, or where some court of general jurisdiction or superior jurisdiction to said inferior court, has already taken jurisdiction of the subject matter of the action, or when the remedy to the party by appeal would not be adequate to the protection of the rights of the litigant or person seeking the writ of prohibition. I have no difficulty therefore, in reaching the conclusion that a temporary writ of prohibition should issue against Judge Cross preventing him from trying the defendant under said section thirteen of the said ordinance. But I am asked to go further and restrain said judge from trying the defendant in prosecutions in the name of the commonwealth for a violation of said section 1304 of the Kentucky statutes for selling spirituous, vinous and malt liquors without a license. This question must be determined by ascertaining whether the defendant has a right of appeal from any judgment that may be rendered against him, and whether said right of appeal affords him an adequate remedy. It is alleged in the petition and contended by the counsel for Plaintiff Boyle that he has no right of appeal, and that if any such right be, that it is not an adequate remedy. The lowest fine that can be assessed against him, in prosecution under said section 1304, is twenty (20) dollars and an appeal is allowed in all such cases to the McCracken circuit court, which is the usual remedy for parties aggrieved by judgment of the Paducah police court, and his remedy in this regard is just as adequate and just as perfect as any other citizen of the commonwealth who might be prosecuted by warrant and convicted in said Paducah police court in one or any number of prosecutions. Hence I conclude that I would be exceeding the powers given or conferred to me by law to issue a writ of prohibition in a case of this kind.

"It is therefore ordered and adjudged that the temporary restraining order asked for by the plaintiff, in so far as it seeks to restrain the judge of the Paducah police court from trying the plaintiff, Hugh Boyle, for selling spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in violation of said section thirteen of said ordinance is granted, and said judge is now restrained and prohibited from taking jurisdiction or trying said Hugh Boyle under said ordinance. But the writ as to prosecutions in said court under the general law and under said section 1304, is denied and refused."

Wants Mother-in-Law Back.
Cleveland, Aug. 10.—Eugene C. Mathivet, an attorney, began action today in the probate court to regain possession of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Beesie R. Robinson. Mathivet resorted to a habeas corpus proceeding, declaring that Mrs. D. B. Strickler has induced Mrs. Robinson to leave the Mathivet home and remain with her. He says that Mrs. Robinson, on account of her age, is easily persuaded, and that all of his attempts to see her have failed. All the parties concerned in the action reside in the fashionable East End neighborhood. Mrs. Strickler is no relation of Mrs. Robinson, but the two have been lifelong friends.

Fortune to Horse and Cat.

Miss McMillen was a sister of former Mayor McMillen.

A Marriage Trust.

Here's a new thing in the trust line. The ministers of Kankakee, Ill., have formed a local trust to control marriage and burial fees. They must have $5 for performing either the marriage or burial service, although the by-laws of the union do not prohibit them from taking more if it is offered to them. Well, that's pretty tough, because marriage and death might properly be regarded as the necessities of life. Being born is also a necessary of life, but the Kankakee baby will not have to bear the expenses of its own debut. Therefore, we congratulate the unborn of Kankakee.—New York Tribune.

OBEY STATE LAWS ADVICE IS GIVEN

Railroads Had Better Conform
Until Courts Decide

Something About Intentions of Federal Government Toward Violations of the Law.

BONAPARTE IS RETURNING.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Acting under instructions from the president and attorney general, the department of justice issued a statement today for the purpose of calming the public mind as to the government's intentions with respect to state rights and the future prosecutions of railroads and corporations.

The statement intimates that the railroads should acquiesce in state action, leaving to the department of justice the adjudication of interests in the supreme court of the United States. It also asserts that the reports of wholesale investigations and prosecutions of corporations are incorrect, and that when the present policy of enforcing the anti-rebate and anti-trust laws, "shall have continued a while longer," the result cannot fail to be a sounder and less tainted prosperity.

Attorney General Bonaparte will be back in Washington Monday next. This is in accordance with the plans he made before he left Washington. The purpose of his return is to fold. He proposes to begin here the preparation of his recommendations to the president as to the policy to be pursued with respect to the investigation by the interstate commerce commission of what has been called "the Harriman situation." He also will take up with a view to early completion the papers alleging violation of the anti-trust law by the International Harvester company.

Oppose Move by Landis.

A third matter which has arisen since his departure is the prosecution of the railroads which gave rebates to the Standard Oil company. The administration would like this prosecution stopped, not only because it believes the roads were coerced by the Standard Oil company into giving the rebates, but also because, without promise of immunity, they furnished the evidence upon which it was possible to institute such wholesome proceedings against the great oil trust. Without railroad assistance in the future, the prosecution of that powerful corporation will not only be extremely difficult but impossible. Already the railroads involved with the Standard have, as a matter of self-defense, united with that company in an effort to prevent further successful prosecutions. There is reason to believe that other corporations under investigation have consulted with the railroads for the purpose of insuring co-operation to prevent the government from getting evidence which would cut two ways. The effect of Judge Landis' action consequently has been already to handicap the authorities here in obtaining information which they must have in order to insure convictions.

Wants Officials in Jail.

The spectacular feature of the anti-trust campaign of the administration is its determination to put behind the bars some of the high officials of the railroads and corporations which have violated the law. This is no new purpose. The president repeatedly has referred to the efficacy of imprisonment in preventing future evil doing. It is comparatively an easy task to establish the violation of law by a corporation. It is an extremely difficult thing to locate upon an official.

cial the responsibility for the offense.

The administration has seen the spectacle of a jury finding a corporation guilty and declaring its president innocent. Mr. Bonaparte has been unable to reconcile these conclusions, but his predecessor, Mr. Moody, saw an associate justice of the supreme court, argued, in the case of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, that that railroad was guilty of granting rebates, but that its officials were not culpable. This view was sustained by the court.

Harriman Hard to Get At.

If the administration could have its way, undoubtedly the criminal prosecution of E. H. Harriman would be on its cards. At a conference at the white house before the president went to Oyster Bay it was found after an exhaustive consideration that Harriman had acted in such a way as to make his criminal prosecution impossible. In an interview today Mr. Bonaparte intimated that Harriman's prosecution was or had been under consideration, but that the department would not institute proceedings in which "it does not intend to bring the guilty ones to justice."

As to civil proceedings under the anti-trust law against the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and subsidiary lines, officials of the department of justice are inclined to the view that a suit alleging restraint of trade would not be successful. Therefore under the old land grant laws it is proposed to ask the court for a review of the management of the Union Pacific since 1901, when Harriman commenced his career of high finance.

Hint of a Receivership.

As Mr. Bonaparte has shown, his belief in the policy of receiverships with respect to "bad" corporations, the report is current that he may seek for the appointment of a receiver. This would be such a serious step, however, that before it is taken, the attorney general will confer with the president. On his way to Washington from Lenox, Mass., it is probable he will stop over at Oyster Bay.

In the opinion of the administration the trouble the railroads have been having with the various states establishing more clearly than ever the necessity of the adoption of some method either by national license law or in some fashion whereby the government can exercise a far more complete control than at present.

New Law Is Expected.

It is believed that as a result of the troubles of the railroads in Michigan, Arkansas, North Carolina and Alabama the administration and the roads will reach an agreement before congress meets which will result in the prompt passage of a bill for the further regulation of the transportation interests of the country by the national government which will end state agitation and control. The provisions of this measure now are being worked out at Oyster Bay, and perhaps may be referred to by the president in his annual message. In the meantime the administration wants to avoid trouble with the states in order to prevent public feeling being further inflamed.

POSTAL MEN GO OUT IN CHICAGO, TOO

Operators in Nine Cities Strike in Sympathy and Officials Say
Will Fight.

THE SITUATION LAST NIGHT.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Following the lead of telegraph operators employed by the Western Union Telegraph company in Chicago who went on a strike because they were asked to work with non-union men in Los Angeles, telegraphers in nine other cities throughout the United States quit work.

The 500 men employed by the Postal Telegraph company in Chicago who belong to the same local of the Commercial Union as the Western Union men and who declare that their working conditions with the company are unsatisfactory, took advantage of the situation and quit work in a body last night at 6 o'clock. With the walkout of Postal employees, Chicago is left with about 35 telegraphers endeavoring to transmit business of both companies, where, under normal conditions, fully 1,500 men are necessary to do the work.

The other Western Union offices which became involved in the trouble today, together with the number of men who quit work are: Salt Lake City, 36; Helena, 40; Kansas City, 320; Dallas, 105; Fort Worth, 40; Colorado Springs, 10; Denver, 39; El Paso, 56.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Operators of the Postal Telegraph company, 500 in number, struck last night at a few minutes after 6 o'clock. This with 1,100 men out from the offices of the Western Union throughout the city makes 1,600 men now on a strike in this city.

At a meeting of operators held this afternoon a resolution was unanimously passed declaring that every operator in the city having a union card should be called out. Debate on this motion occupied the entire time of the meeting and an adjournment was taken as soon as the motion was decided upon.

A short time after the meeting had dissolved, demands were presented to the officials of the Postal company for an increase of 25 per cent. in wages, an eight hour day and recognition of the union. If these were not passed upon a strike was to follow. It was the general understanding among operators that the demands could not be granted at once and the move was evidently intended to bring about a strike at the present time in order to aid the Western Union men. If the demands were not granted, under wording of the offer all operators working for brokers and commission houses are to be called out in the morning and business generally will be badly handicapped.

The operators who were present at the meeting say that the intention of the union was to cripple telegraph facilities of the city in every direction and to do so completely that public sentiment would be brought to bear heavily on the two companies and in this manner force a settlement between them and the operators.

The general situation throughout the west was becoming serious as the day lengthened. In addition to strikes reported during the forenoon it was said that men at El Paso, Texas, were out and it was declared those in Spokane were on the verge of a strike.

The strike at offices of the Postal in this city are attended by no sign of disorder. When the whistle was blown calling the men out, the operators rose from their seats with a cheer and walked out. There was not the slightest evidence of ill-feeling on either side. The men after reaching the street gave repeated cheers and then dispersed.

The strike throughout the day was not marked by trouble of any kind. Chief of Police Shippy informed the leaders of the strikers this afternoon that he would not allow picketing or any violence and he was informed that none was intended and every effort would be made to keep the men peaceable.

Strike Leader Talks.

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 10.—Samuel J. Small, national president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union was located and submitted to a brief interview. He was reluctant in saying anything.

"The subject," he said, "is too delicate to say anything about. Mrs. Nicholas is, of course, the storm center of the strike, and San Francisco officers of the company are responsible for what has happened. The latter have not lived up to the agreement adopted two weeks ago. When an investigation is made something extremely sensational will come out."

"The strike is spreading. We have advised that operators in the following cities in addition to Los Angeles are out: Chicago, Helena, Mont., Cleveland, Cincinnati, Salt Lake, Kansas City, Birmingham, Ala., New Orleans, Denver and Butte.

All Out in El Paso.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 10.—All operators, except one, in the Western Union office, walked out. The strikers included two women. The local union held a meeting today and adopted resolutions asking the Postal operators to walk out tomorrow morning.

Will Fight.

New York, Aug. 10.—The Western Union Telegraph company will fight the strike of their operators in the western cities or in the east or wherever the men may go out. They expect to win as they claim to have won in 1883.

The foregoing is not an official announcement but is an expression of opinion concurred in both by men associated with executive affairs of the Western Union and representatives of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, and made today. The position taken by the company is that the men have no substantial grievance but are in some instances willing and in other instances unwilling victims of prevailing "social unrest" interest.

The Postal people will also fight the strikers, it was officially announced. At midnight Vice-President Charles C. Adams, of the Postal company, who was then at his Broadway office said:

"This time it is going to be a fight to a finish. This is purely a sympathetic strike; there is absolutely no grievance which our operators have against the company. All their demands have been granted and they no doubt are perfectly satisfied as far as their treatment by the company is concerned. We will make no concessions this time."

Solar Plexus Seat of Soul Kiss, Says Owner of One That is Ripe

New York, Aug. 10.—A woman who calls herself Vesta la Vesta and who has established a studio here to exploit "the soul kiss," was interviewed today by a young woman reporter. The young woman gives the following account of her visit to the seeress:

"Would you mind coming back in fifteen minutes?" said Vesta la Vesta. "At present I am giving a lesson to a gentleman."

"Through the studio door on Broadway arcade, propped decorously ajar, I observed a stiff jointed young man of 30 or so seated on the edge of his chair, much interested and some alarm written on his candid countenance. From his appearance I decided 'the soul kiss' must be a decided less lurid and disturbing than the common or piazza variety known to Vesta la Vesta as 'the sense kiss.' But when I returned later the seeress assured me this was far from being the case."

Ordinary Kiss Nothing Like It.
"Compared with ecstasy of the soul kiss," she declared emphatically, "the sense kiss is the merest zephyr. The sense kiss is not satisfying. There is something wanting in it. But when I exchange soul kisses with my affinity in the planet Neptune I close the doors, throw myself on a couch, my soul goes out from my body to meet him, I experience a billowy ecstasy. Here Vesta la Vesta, who is billowy, at least, threw up her plump arms, shut her eyes, and executed a sort of phsyic hoohee-coohee. "That is the way I feel," she concluded, dramatically.

"And I understand you have classes in which you teach the soul kiss?"

"Yes," replied the seeress. "The complete course of instruction is $300."

"You teach both men and women?"

"O, yes; there are both in my class," she replied. "A seeress recognizes no sex. She is both man and woman herself."

"Then you claim to be Mahatma?"

"In India I might be called Mahatma," she replied, "but as I am in America, I call myself by my soul name, Vesta la Vesta."

Only Ripe Souls Need Try It.
"How do you teach this soul kiss?" I ventured. "How long does it take to learn?"

"The soul kiss," Vesta la Vesta expounded, "must be exchanged by two ripened souls. My course of metaphysics ripens the soul. The seat of the soul is in the solar plexus."

"Then," I remarked, "if Corbett had had a ripened soul Fitzsimmons' solar plexus blow would not have knocked him out?"

"It would not," replied Vesta. "And phsyic exercises for the development of the solar plexus should be part of every prize fighter's training."

"They might do him good," the seeress answered, "but the soul kiss is not for such unripened souls so much as for artists, writers, and musicians who feel the need of it. Musicians especially need the soul kiss. It gives life and 'zip' to their work."

"Is there such thing as an overripe?"

"No," she replied. "The soul kiss is a constant process. It is the life of the soul."

"The soul kiss," Vesta la Vesta expounded, "must be exchanged by two ripened souls. My course of metaphysics ripens the soul. The seat of the soul is in the solar plexus."

"Then," I remarked, "if Corbett had had a ripened soul Fitzsimmons' solar plexus blow would not have knocked him out?"

"It would not," replied Vesta. "And phsyic exercises for the development of the solar plexus should be part of every prize fighter's training."

"They might do him good," the seeress answered, "but the soul kiss is not for such unripened souls so much as for artists, writers, and musicians who feel the need of it. Musicians especially need the soul kiss. It gives life and 'zip' to their work."

"Is there such thing as an overripe?"

"No," she replied. "The soul kiss is a constant process. It is the life of the soul."

APPETITE

CANDY IS SAID TO BE SUBSTITUTE FOR LIQUOR.

Englishman Says Americans Are Nation of Candy Eaters—Craving Is the Same.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10.—Dr. A. C. Abbott, chief of the bureau of health, announced today that he believed that the appetite for candy and alcohol are fundamentally the same, that by the development of a candy taste people could be fortified against a craving for rum, and that, in pursuance of his theory, he had been feeding his three children each day on a regular allowance of sweets.

Dr. Chalmers de Costa, of Jefferson college, supported Dr. Abbott's theory, and also said he had found that blond persons usually had a candy craving, while brunets long for alcohol. This was because the latter were more vital.

It also has been discovered that within recent years women eat less candy and consume more alcohol. The reverse is true of men.

Candy Same as Alcohol.
Dr. Abbott, in explaining his theory said:

"It is a suspicion of mine, and mark you, I use the word 'suspicion' because it is only my personal theory, not indorsed by any medical authority, that I know, that the appetite for alcohol and the appetite for candy are fundamentally the same, the choice of one or the other indulgence being determined by the temperamental qualities of the individual."

"Both sugar and alcohol are carbohydrates with the same organic molecules, differing only in arrangement, and I believe both administer to the same organic craving."

"I have made a careful study of heat producing carbohydrates and the fact that American men are rapidly developing a taste for sweets I hold to be highly encouraging. It means that candy is taking the place of a dangerous appetite. Statistics show that within the three years just passed the consumption of chocolate in America has increased more than 500 per cent, which is conclusive evidence to support my theory."

Soda Water Helps Some.
"Also the soda water business has increased phenomenally and the confectionery shops are more numerous and of greater pretensions than was dreamed of even five years ago. On the other hand in proportion the sale of alcohol shows a slight decrease."

"Women, however, are feeling more than before the organic craving for alcohol instead of candy. This, I believe, is due to their greater liberty and to reaction from old conditions."

"The demand for candy or alcohol on the part of such a restless, nervous people as the Americans is easily explainable. A person of nervous temperament necessarily spends a great amount of animal force, which is more readily supplied by a rich readily oxidized carbohydrate as sugar."

What Really Started It.
Dr. Abbott's "confession of faith" was called out by an article in one of the foremost English periodicals, in which a recent visitor to the United States spoke of the Americans as a nation of candy eaters. The writer was John Winthrop Raby, who, in the course of his article, said:

"From what I had formerly read of Americans I was only moderately surprised to observe thousands of young women chewing gum in public, but I was by no means prepared to see big strong men—busy business men—eating candy in the streets."

The only worthy thing living is that which puts the soul on top.

Benefits Will Surely Come

To Paducah from the agitation for HOME MADE and UNION MADE products carried on by this organization. We are gratified to state that room has been made in at least one trade for half a dozen additional men, by reason of the increased demand for home-made goods.

And this has been done only since we took up the battle in earnest.

We're still fighting for the UNION LABEL on EVERYTHING—the badge of honor and the sign of quality.

"Independence" of the workingman can NOT be obtained by any means than through organization along regular lines, and when backed by a national organization. A non-union "union" is about as feasible as graftless politics or a church devoid of religious teaching. It won't work—that's all. So, Mr. Business Man, beware of IMITATIONS and FRAUDS.

You'll only be humbugged by dealing with them.

"Egg-o-See" breakfast food, and "Nutrito," cereal coffee, are UNION MADE, and can be had of your grocer. They both have the label. If you use such products at all, ask for these.

Hallmarks of the lower class are noted for their general good health. This is to some extent attributable to the fact that the working people of Italy eat less meat than those of any other European nation.

One more day and the river jumped down 0.8 of a foot, leaving the gauge at 11.4 this morning. Weather clear, and the few packets at the wharf had good freight trips.

The Dick Fowler left on time this morning for Cairo and landings down the river. Yesterday was a good day for the Fowler.

The Kentucky was at the wharf today receiving freight, and she will leave this evening for the Tennessee river.

The Saffilo was at the wharf yesterday afternoon from 1 until 3 o'clock unloading and receiving freight. This was a big freight trip for the packet. She left for the Tennessee river.

The John Hopkins was the Evansville packet today, and this packet had her share of the river trade. The Joe Fowler left late yesterday for Evansville owing to the time consumed in loading the "Moscow" show.

The Georgia Lee arrived today from Cincinnati en route to Memphis with a big freight trip. She was at the wharf for some time receiving supplies.

The Fannie Wallace was around the wharf this morning moving barges.

The Lizzie B. Archibald arrived this morning from Brookport, and took a tow of loaded barges to Brookport to be unloaded.

Dry dock, No. 9, will be taken out today for repairs. Workmen will finish the Scotia's barge this afternoon.

The Peters Lee was at the wharf today en route from Memphis to Cincinnati.

The Jim Duffy did not get away yesterday as scheduled, but she left today after coaling for the Tennessee river.

The Bettie Owen brought over a good trip this morning from Illinois. Many wagons of vegetables and hay were brought over, and they all went to the market.

With the "F. Gent" pushing, and the "Gertie M." lashed to her side, Captain E. Gent's showboat, "Evening Star," came down from Farley's landing in Mechanicsburg, and landed the sand digger. Captain Gent is going to start again, this time he will go down the Ohio river and into the Mississippi river. Members of the troupe will arrive tomorrow and rehearsals will be resumed. A gasoline engine with 40 horse power has arrived and he will install it in the boat at once, and with this he believes he will have ample power to withstand the strongest current. His present engine will be used to run the dynamo, and the small engine will be used in an emergency.

The "Gertie M.", a gasoline boat, has been sold by Captain William Terry, to the Canton Lumber company in Mississippi, but over the last payment something interesting is developing. The lumber company is located in an inland town, and the company thought the boat could be shipped by railroad, and then used in small streams, but the railroad company refuses to take the boat, owing to her width. Most of the money had been paid, but the last $150, the company has refused. An order was sent stopping the payment on the first check, but before it reached Captain Terry had drawn the money. Captain Terry is waiting for the company to fulfill the contract, before taking any further action.

Official Forecasts.
The Ohio, at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, will continue falling during the next two days. At Paducah and Cairo, will continue falling during the next several days.

The Tennessee, from Florence to the mouth, will continue falling slowly during the next 24 hours.

The Mississippi, from below St. Louis to above Cairo, not much change during the next 24 hours.

A Suitable Heading.
During the financial dog days of a southern college a wealthy merchant called upon the president to say that he had provided in his will for a rather handsome bequest to the college to be paid after the death of himself and his wife. The president was overjoyed and asked permission to announce the gift in the city papers. This request was granted on condition that the donor's name should not be mentioned.

Accordingly the president wrote a eulogistic notice of the donation and hurried to the newspaper office. In his haste he neglected to give his item a title. The editor, hurried and worried, absently clapped on the first words that came to his mind; and the item appeared the next morning with the following caption:

"Two Pair of Shoes to Wait For."

Aunt (to her nephew, a student): "You are taking much longer than usual to ask me to lend you some money this time."

Nephew: "Really auntie, how thoughtful you are. If it hadn't been for your kind reminder I should have forgotten all about it."—Meggendorfer Blaetter.

CENTRAL AMERICA

ALL WANT CONVENTION BUT PRIDE HOLDS THEM BACK.

Honduras To Establish Permanent Government Without Delay—The Latin States.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Most of the representatives of the Central American republics who are in Washington or vicinity called upon Acting Secretary of State Bacon today, this being diplomatic day, to talk individually with him about the project for a general convention of delegates from their countries in Washington to endeavor to reach an agreement likely to result in permanent peace in that quarter of the world.

With all parties willing to enter upon such a conference, the difficulty appears to lie in the unwillingness of any one to take the initiative on account of personal pride. Each of the little republics thinks it has a grievance against its neighbor, and in the absence of an apology as a condition precedent to an apology as a condition precedent to an international gathering, would have the other party make the first advance. The state department here supported in principle by the Mexican government, is extremely desirous of furthering this conference, but is stopped from itself formally proposing a meeting by a fear that its motives might be misunderstood and it be suspected of selfish designs and unwarrantable intervention.

It is understood that all of the ministers are in constant communication with their home governments upon this subject and as one of them today said, there is reasonable ground for hope that within a very short time, through an exchange of notes or perhaps an informal personal meeting between the ministers here, an agreement can be reached for the convention of the delegates in Washington some time next winter.

There have been other conventions between these countries looking to the preservation of the peace, but all were fatally defective in lacking a compulsory feature. So it has been suggested that if another treaty is drawn in Washington as the outcome of the projected convention, it shall clothe the United States and Mexico with the positive duty of intervening in the interest of peace in case of disagreement that do not yield to treatment by the ordinary methods of diplomacy.

Permanent Government.
Washington, Aug. 10.—Formal notice has been received from the provisional government of Honduras that September 15 next, the anniversary of the political independence of Central America, has been selected as the date upon which Honduras will return to a constitutional form of government, adopting the provisions of the constitution of 1894. An election will take place in October following, of a permanent president, and it is understood that the leading candidates are General Davila, president of the provisional government, and Dionisio Gutierrez, formerly a member of the cabinet and long prominent in the political affairs of Honduras.

The decision to return to a permanent form of government was undoubtedly the result of the refusal of the state department to recognize the present provisional government of Honduras several weeks ago.

RIVER WASHES TOWN AWAY
Thriving Nebraska Business Center Gone After 30 Years Fight.

Nebraska City, Aug. 10.—The Missouri river won a thirty years fight against the town of Barney, Neb., when it swallowed up the last house in the town and carried it on down the river. The house had been abandoned some time ago, as the river bank grew nearer and nearer its foundations. Thirty years ago

Barney was a thriving town. It was on the line of the Burlington railroad, and its prospects were good. It being at that time as large as Nebraska City itself. Then the Missouri began cutting toward the town. The houses were moved back toward the hills until there was no further room for removal. Then they were washed away one by one and carried down the stream. Everything possible was done to prevent the cutting of the stream, but nothing stops the Missouri when it starts. Where Barney once stood is now the bed of the river which is about a mile wide at that point.
